Why Does Pacific Pump & Power Use a Dive Helmet as Our Logo?

You have probably noticed that Pacific Pump & Power uses a diving helmet as our logo. You have also most likely noticed that PPP does not do any commercial diving in Hawaii and Guam. Where does this super cool looking logo come from and how does it relate to us?

Our CEO started his first company Northern Underwater Systems back in 1979 as a Commercial diver up in Western Canada. He grew that company to be a marine industrial service company that included diving, pumping, barges and dredges then sold it back in 2005. In 2006 Pacific Pump & Power was born in Hawaii and he brought the logo with him from his old life.

In 2010 Jeremy Leonard started another company, Canada Pump & Power that is back to diving, pumping, barges and dredges but here at Pacific Pump & Power we have stayed away from the diving portion of the marine industrial industry.
